

Addition – to add an idea:	and also apart from this as well (as) in addition moreover further furthermore too
Condition – to provide a condition	If in that case provided that unless
For comparison – to show how things are similar	for the same reason in a similar manner in comparison in the same way on the one hand similarly
For contrast – to show how things are different	although but despite even so even though however in contrast in spite of instead on the contrary contrary to nevertheless on the other hand rather still though yet whereas while
For emphasis – to put forward an idea more forcefully	again in fact interestingly indeed it should be noted (that) more important(ly) most importantly (un)fortunately unquestionably
For illustration – to provide examples	a further instance of this is... an example of this is... for example for instance such as thus as follows
For restatement – for rephrasing statements	in other words more simply namely another way such as that is

The cause of things - to attribute the reasons for something occurring	a / the consequence of because due to for the effect of ... since the result of ...
The effect of things – to show the effect of something	accordingly as a result/consequence consequently for this reason hence so therefore thus
For concession / qualification – conceding something	admittedly although even though however indeed obviously
Generalisation – making a general statement	as a rule for the most part generally in general in most cases normally on the whole usually
Time order – to indicate a chronological sequence	first second third (etc) firstly secondly thirdly next before earlier finally following later meanwhile subsequently then to conclude while
